

Understanding data flow within the context of AI models

Trace Examples:

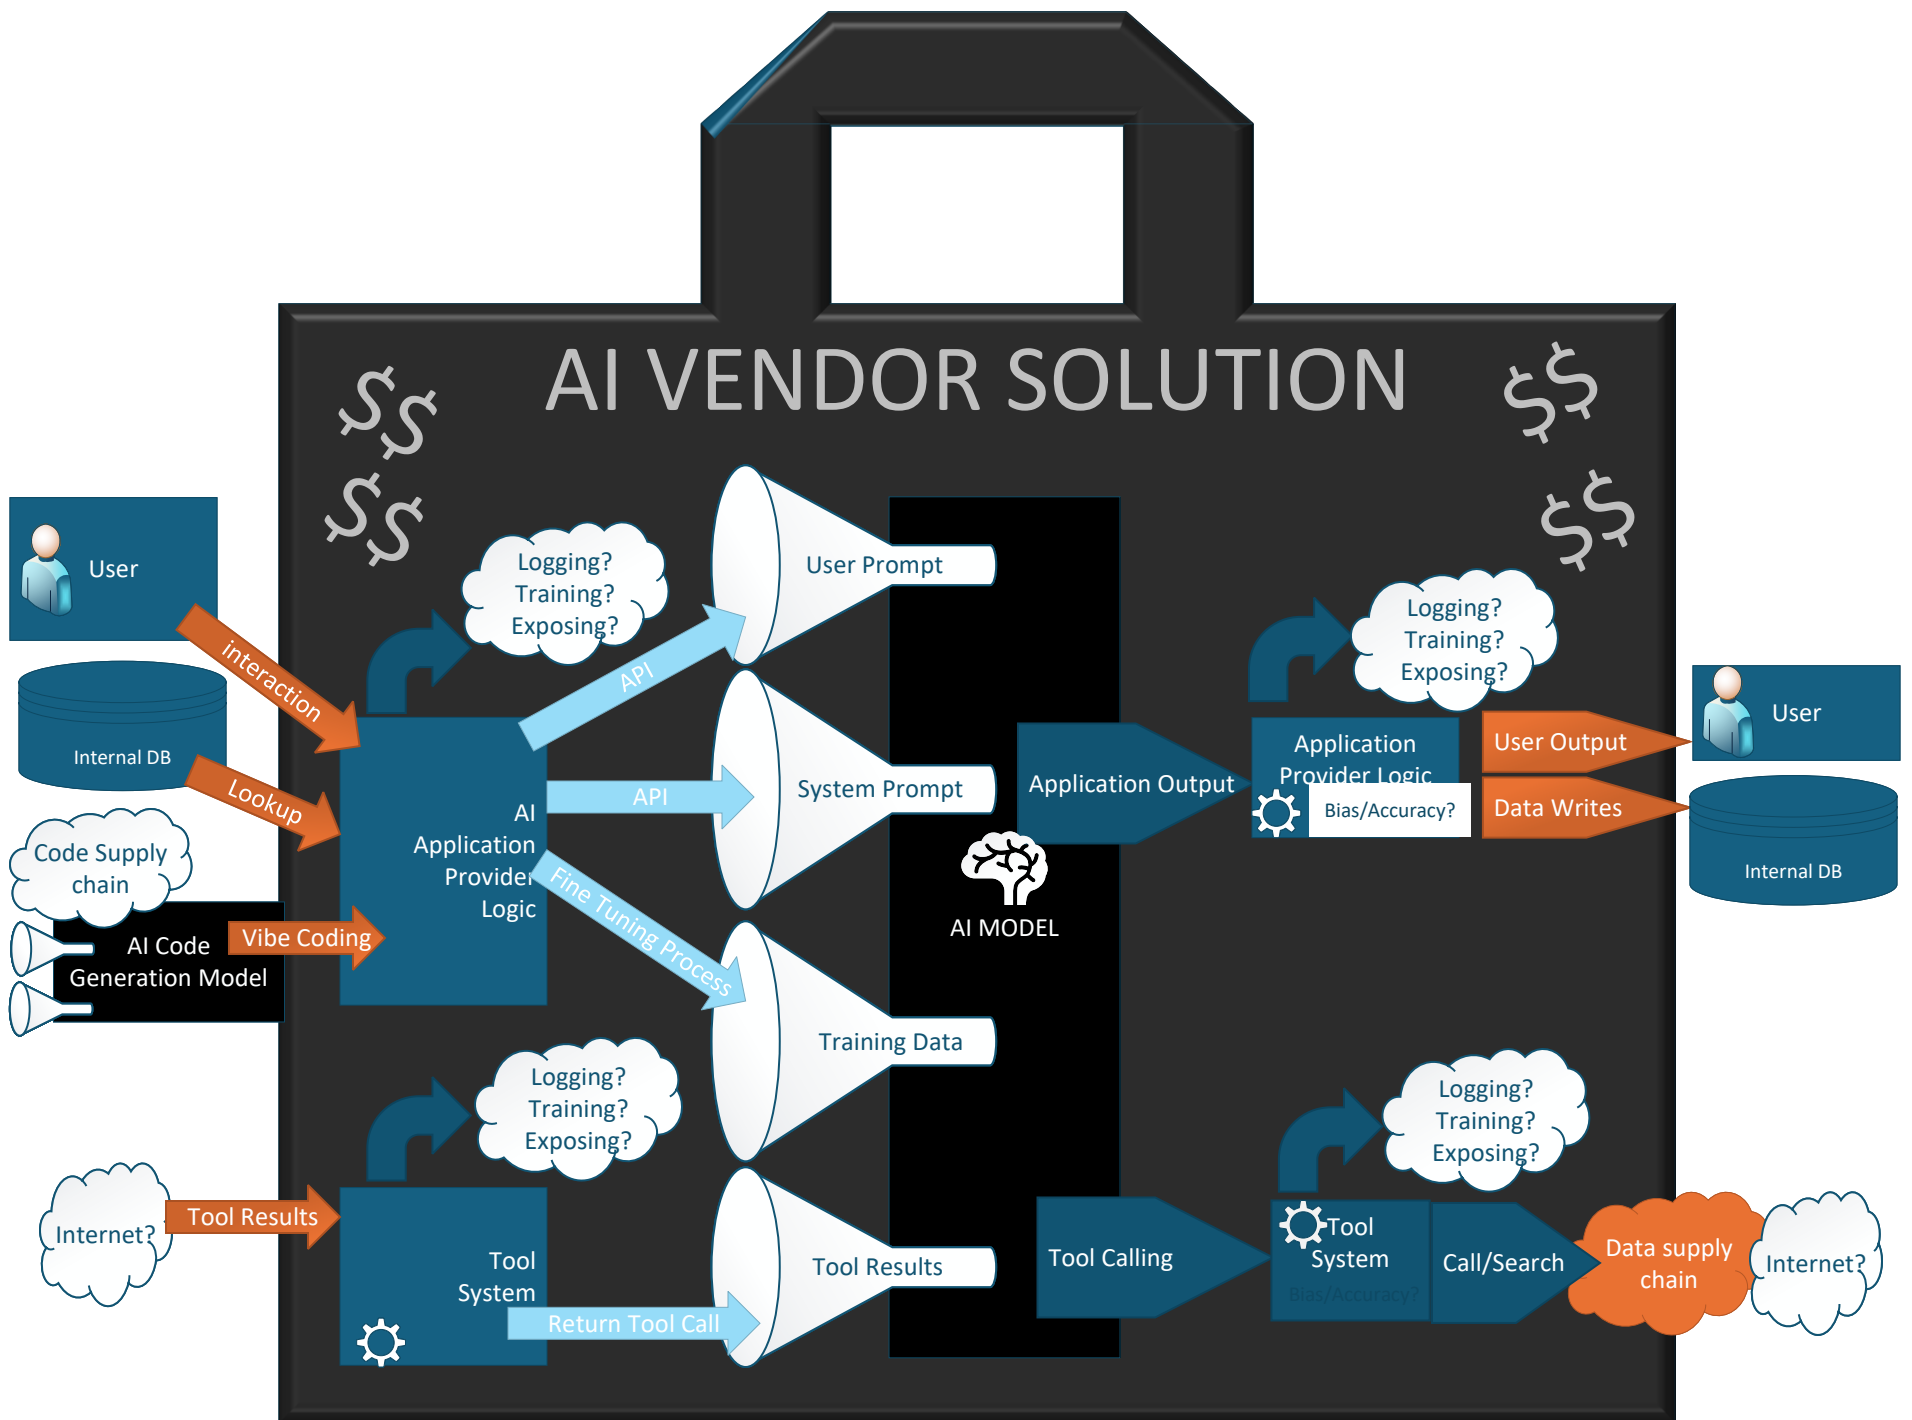

- * User adds sensitive data to prompt – Ends up getting exposed through tool provider data supply chain
- * AI application provider reads internal database. Model results go back to application provider controlled logging server.

Understanding data flow within the context of AI models

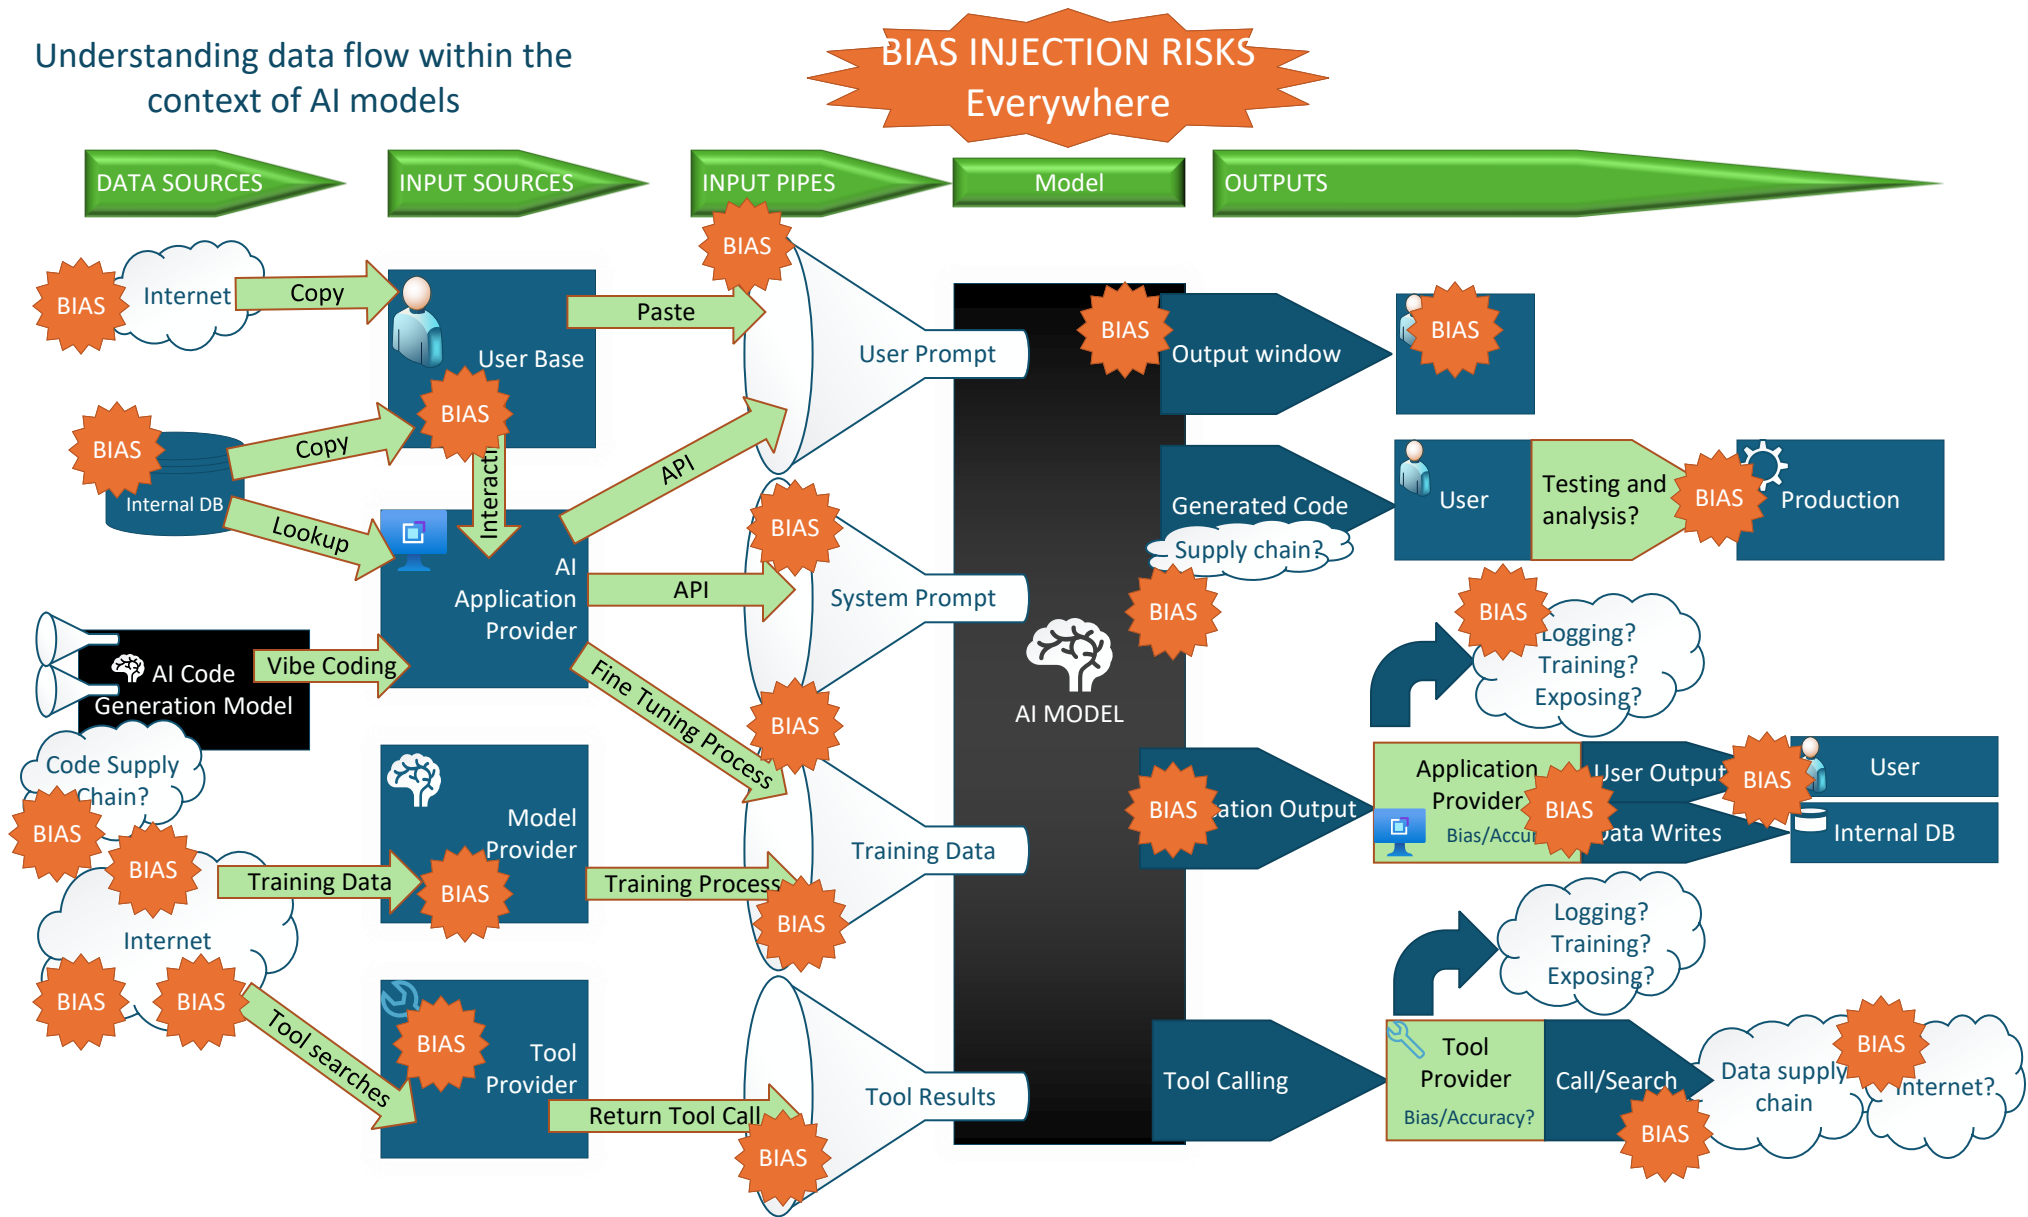

Trace Examples:

- * User adds sensitive data to prompt – Ends up getting exposed through tool provider data supply chain
- * AI application provider reads internal database. Model results go back to application provider controlled logging server.

Understanding data flow within the context of AI models

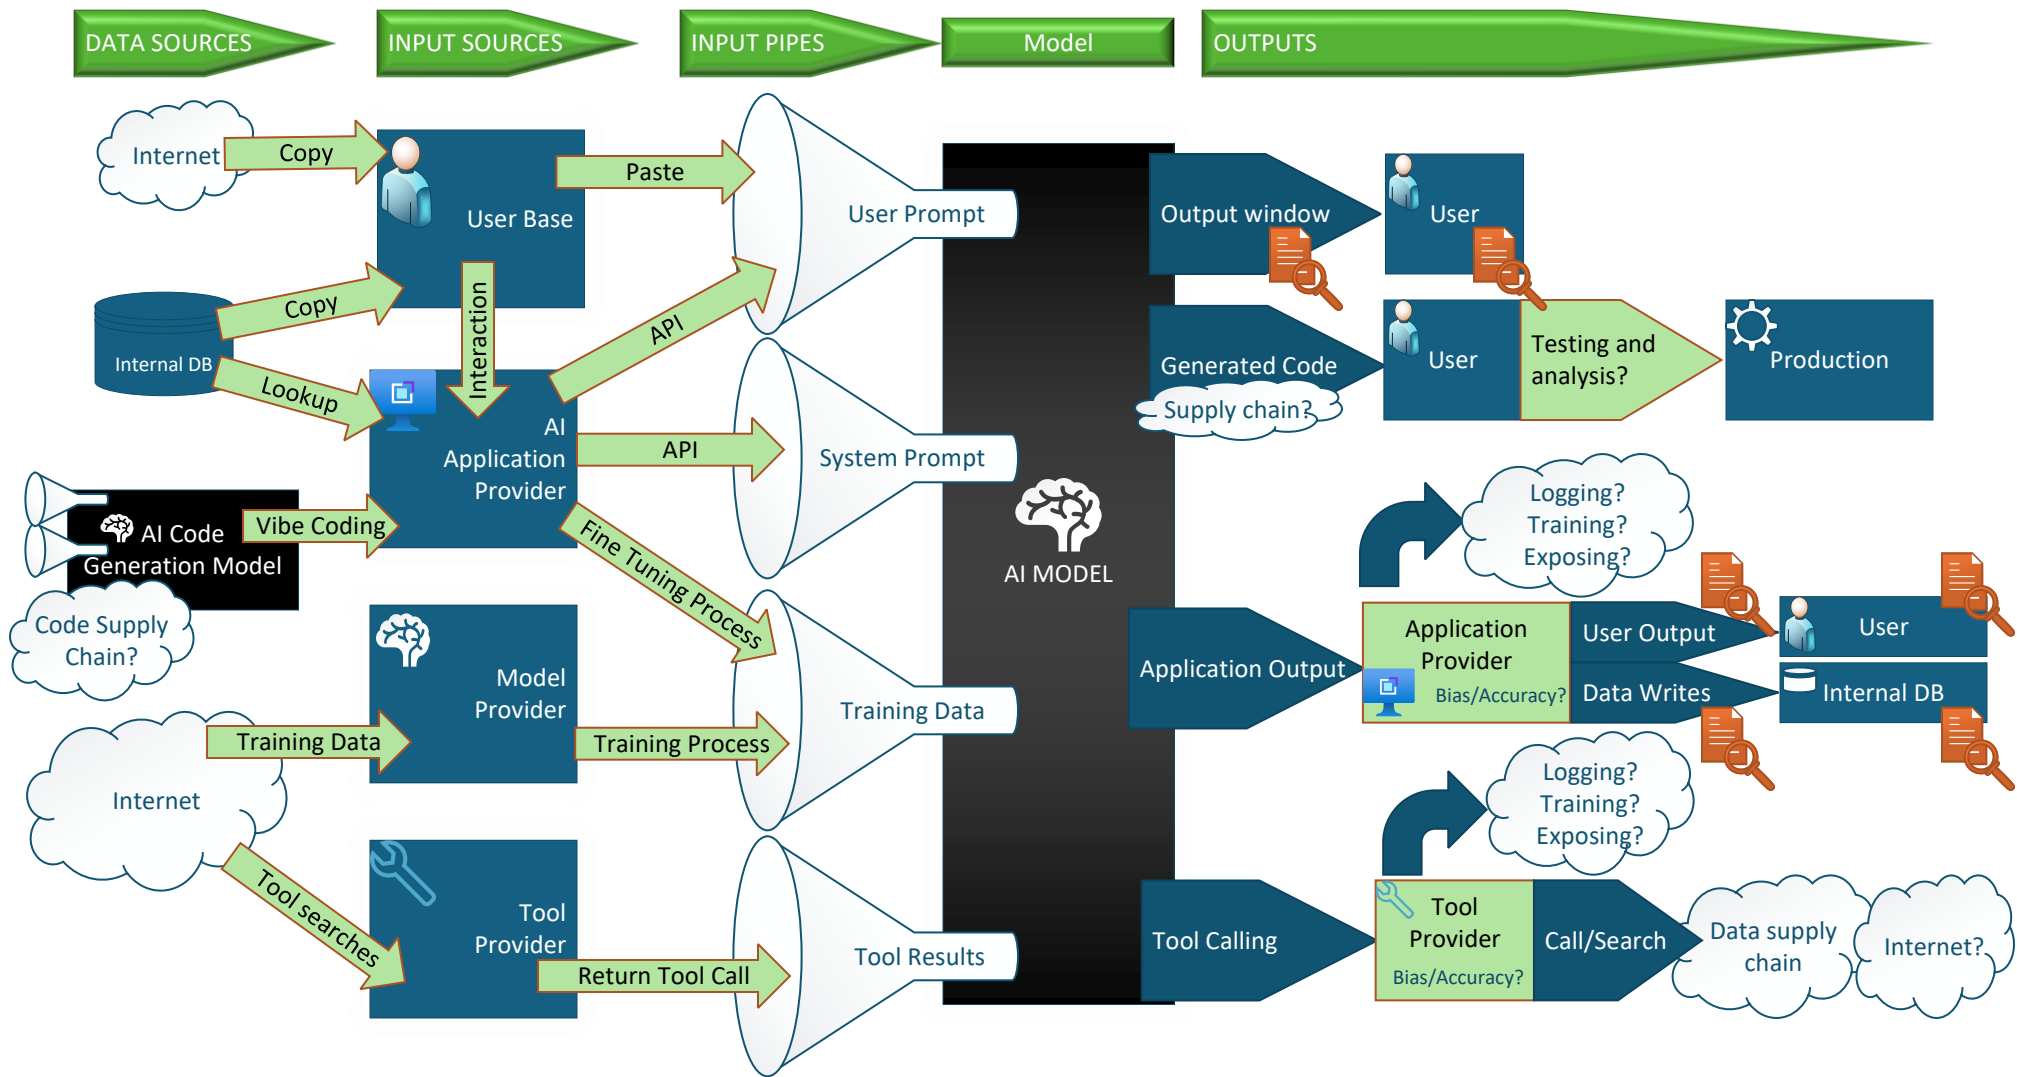

Trace Examples:

- * User adds sensitive data to prompt – Ends up getting exposed through tool provider data supply chain
- * AI application provider reads internal database. Model results go back to application provider controlled logging server.

Understanding data flow within the context of AI models

Measure Bias

Trace Examples:

- * User adds sensitive data to prompt – Ends up getting exposed through tool provider data supply chain
- * AI application provider reads internal database. Model results go back to application provider controlled logging server.